SOBS AUDIBLE IN COURTROOM AS PLEA MADE

Defense Makes Closing Plea Behalf Of Sixteen Defendants
AIR SURCHARGED
Dangerous Tension Exists As Trial Completed In Williamson

Mingo County Court House, Williamson, W. Va., March 19.—Sobs broke the silence in which the crowd that packed this courtroom listened today to the closing plea for the defense in the trigger trial today. J. J. Coniff of Wheeling, W. Va., made an impassioned argument in behalf of the 16 men from Matewan accused of the murder of Detective Albert C. Felts. Now and then a man in defendants' row would clear his throat, and at one time, when Coniff compared Albert Felts to Judas Iscariot, some one in the audience exclaimed:

"Amen, brother, amen!"
Aside from such interruptions, as these an almost unbroken quiet reigned as Coniff spoke.
So keen was the trigger tension that one almost wished for some one to shout something—just anything—to relieve the atmosphere. It is suppression of feelings that has surcharged the air here ever since the trial began January 26. And it is that very suppression which is the most dangerous factor in the situation.

A woman is carried out of the courtroom as this is written. She has fainted. Suppression is the answer.
In the open door behind Judge Robert D. Bailey's bench stands High Sheriff Pinson, a small man of almost frail type—little physically but lots of personality and brains. He is suppression personified. His is the most harrowing, the most delicate job in Mingo county. Detectives Albert and Lee Felts were shiners in the same lodge with him.

The sixteen men that sit in defendants' row—many of them have their wives beside them—are the men who helped elect him last fall. The union miners' vote made him what he is today.
His intelligent brown eyes coolly survey the audience as Coniff warms up in his speech to the jury.
Not a syllable pro or con has been uttered by Sheriff Pinson since the trial started.

DEMAND GERMANY WITHDRAW PLANS

EXPERTS SAY COUNTER PROPOSALS CAN NOT BE FULFILLED
Berlin, March 19.—The German committee of experts which has been advising the government on the indemnity matter is demanding that Germany formally withdraw the counter proposals on indemnity which were given to the allies by Walter Simons, the foreign minister, at the London conference. It was learned today. The experts have advised the government that the counter proposals can not have been fulfilled even if the allies had accepted them. It is expected that Germany will send a note to London at once withdrawing the counter terms.

KENTUCKY BOYS TESTIFY AT TRIAL

Dayton, O., March 19.—That Frank Mills, on trial for first degree murder for the alleged slaying of Roy Shay, messenger boy here last July 6, lived in Greenville, Ky., for several weeks under the name of Harry Shaffer, Chillicothe, O., was testified to by Henry English, Leonard Huffman and Tom Dingus, of Greenville, who said they ran around with Mills. They also identified his motorcycle and leather coat, the latter, the state claims belonged to Shay. Dr. A. S. Brady said he treated Mills for a dislocated shoulder soon after he arrived in Greenville, where he (Mills) worked on a farm. November 29, Mills came to Dayton and surrendered.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED
Toledo, O., March 19.—Indictments against nineteen men and women in connection with the robbery of U. S. mail February 17, when more than $1,000,000 in bonds and currency was stolen, were returned late yesterday by the federal grand jury. Of the 19 indicted, 15 are under arrest.

ITALIAN SHIP ON FIRE
Galveston, March 19.—Fire was discovered in the forward hold of the Italian steamship Fert. The vessel is loaded with grain and cotton for Geneva.

BOSTON MAYOR SPENDS NIGHT IN CHEAP ROOM

Seeking to learn first hand unemployment conditions and how his city is meeting them Mayor Andrew J. Peters, of Boston, garbed in faded and tattered garments spent a night in Wayfarers Lodge where the city's homeless are sheltered and fed. Effectually disguised, the Mayor spent the night in a room with forty unfortunates and in the morning he jumped in on the woodpile and worked there several hours to earn his breakfast. Upon his return to the City Hall the Mayor declared he had spent a fairly comfortable night.

STATE DEPARTMENT IS SWAMPED WITH NEW TRADE QUERIES

Relations With Russia Are Topic Of Questions Of Firms.

Washington, March 19.—The state department has been swamped during the past two days with requests from American business firms for information regarding the possibilities of trade with Russia since the reported signing of an agreement between Great Britain and the soviet government for the resumption of commercial relations.
Almost without exception those seeking information are of the opinion that the British agreement may clear the way for the opening of some sort of trade relations between the United States and Russia. Though the state department has received little more than the official confirmation of the signing of the trade pact and officials are therefore withholding comment. It was learned today that the department has not changed its attitude toward Russia and American businessmen are being advised that there is apparently little hope of an immediate resumption of trade on any considerable scale.
The new pact is expected by officials here to prove of political, rather than economic significance.
Though no great increase in the amount of commodities exchanged is looked for immediately it is believed that both Russia and Great Britain will benefit by the agreement. It is admitted however that later on a considerable trade might be built up provided a workable system of credits can be devised.

AMERICAN STEAMER SINKS BRITISH SHIP

Washington, March 19.—The American steamer Vincennes Bridge collided with and sunk the British steamer Fredville off the coast of Holland on March 14, the department of commerce was advised today. All of the crew of the Fredville were rescued and the Vincennes Bridge proceeded to Dover, England.

THIEF ENTERS HOMES.

Newark, O., March 19.—Burglars last night entered the homes of Joseph Evans and James Markham by means of skeleton keys and stole $300 and a revolver. Early this morning a sneak thief robbed the unlocked safe of Charles Slane of $400. No clues.

2,000 LAID OFF.

Marion, O., March 19.—It is estimated that 2,000 employees have been laid off in Marion as a result of the retrenchment being effected by industry. Practically every plant has cut down its complement of workmen.

PLOWING BEGINS.

Marion, O., March 19.—It was reported today that farmers in this section are already taking advantage of the fine March weather by getting plowing started and winter wheat is reported as indicating the best crop Marion has had in some time.

SEPARATE PEACE WITH GERMANY NOW PROBABLE

Republican Leaders Believe This is Only Way Out Of Treaty Tangle For U. S.—Covenant Will Not Be Resubmitted By Harding.

Washington, March 19.—While President Harding has not yet undertaken any serious discussions of the peace situation with Republican leaders of the senate there is a widespread belief among them that conditions are so shaping up that a separate peace between the United States and Germany is going to prove the only way out of the treaty tangle.
Nothing definite will be done in the matter of shaping up a program until it is seen what propositions the foreign envoys have to offer. M. Viviani, the French representative is due to arrive in Washington before the new Congress to plead the cause of the league. He probably will be followed by representatives of other countries.

President Harding himself has emphasized that he has not taken up seriously the treaty tangle with his erstwhile colleagues on the senate foreign relations committee. He has nevertheless discussed the situation generally and informally with several senators and those with whom he has talked have come away from the White House convinced that Harding will never resubmit the treaty, either with the covenant or without it, or with or without article X.

It is generally believed in Washington that M. Viviani is coming to the United States to suggest to President Harding that the senate take the treaty and ratify it with any changes it sees fit, but ratify it in some way or other so as to preserve an outward semblance at least of the war time solidarity of the great powers.
If M. Viviani does make some concrete proposals along these lines, it is the belief of a number of influential Republican senators that they will be turned down at the White House.

COURT GRANTS STAY OF EXECUTION IN CASE, SAYS REPORT

Rumor Circulated About Stillman Suit In New York.

New York, March 19.—The battle of lawyers in America's most sensational divorce case, the Stillman suit, continued today, while the principals remained silent and obscured themselves as much as possible in the background.
It was reported, but without confirmation that a supreme court justice of the Ninth district had signed a stay of proceedings in connection with Mrs. James A. Stillman's motion for alimony of $120,000 annually and $25,000 counsel fees. This would mean that Mr. Stillman's attorneys had moved quickly to prevent his examination on Mrs. Stillman's charges of infidelity before the divorce case comes to trial.
The stay was reported to have been filed in Putnam county where Mr. Stillman brought suit against his wife naming the French Canadian Indian, Fred Beauvais, as co-respondent and questioning the paternity of Mrs. Stillman's two year old son, Guy. The writ upon which the stay was based was said to have been returnable today. Mr. Stillman's lawyers have been making a hard fight against Mrs. Stillman's alimony demands which were characterized as excessive. It was declared that Mr. Stillman was already paying his wife $5,000 a month. Attorney for the wife said this amount was insufficient for her needs and was incompatible with the vast income of the multi-millionaire banker.

PANAMA PRESIDENT ATTENDS U. S. NOTE

EXPECT REPLY WILL BE FORTHCOMING IN NEAR FUTURE

Balboa, P. C. Z., March 19.—President Porras of the republic of Panama held a long conference Friday night with about fifty of the foremost political leaders and he is expected to send a reply to Secretary of State Hughes' warning note this afternoon.
A considerable anti-American feeling has been engendered among the radical element in Panama by the American note warning Panama to make up her territorial differences with Costa Rica without any more delay.
Panama officials expressed disappointment over the tone of the note but said that they expected the government to comply with the requests of the United States.

REP. C. CRABBE SEARCHED FOR "VINOUS LIQUOR"

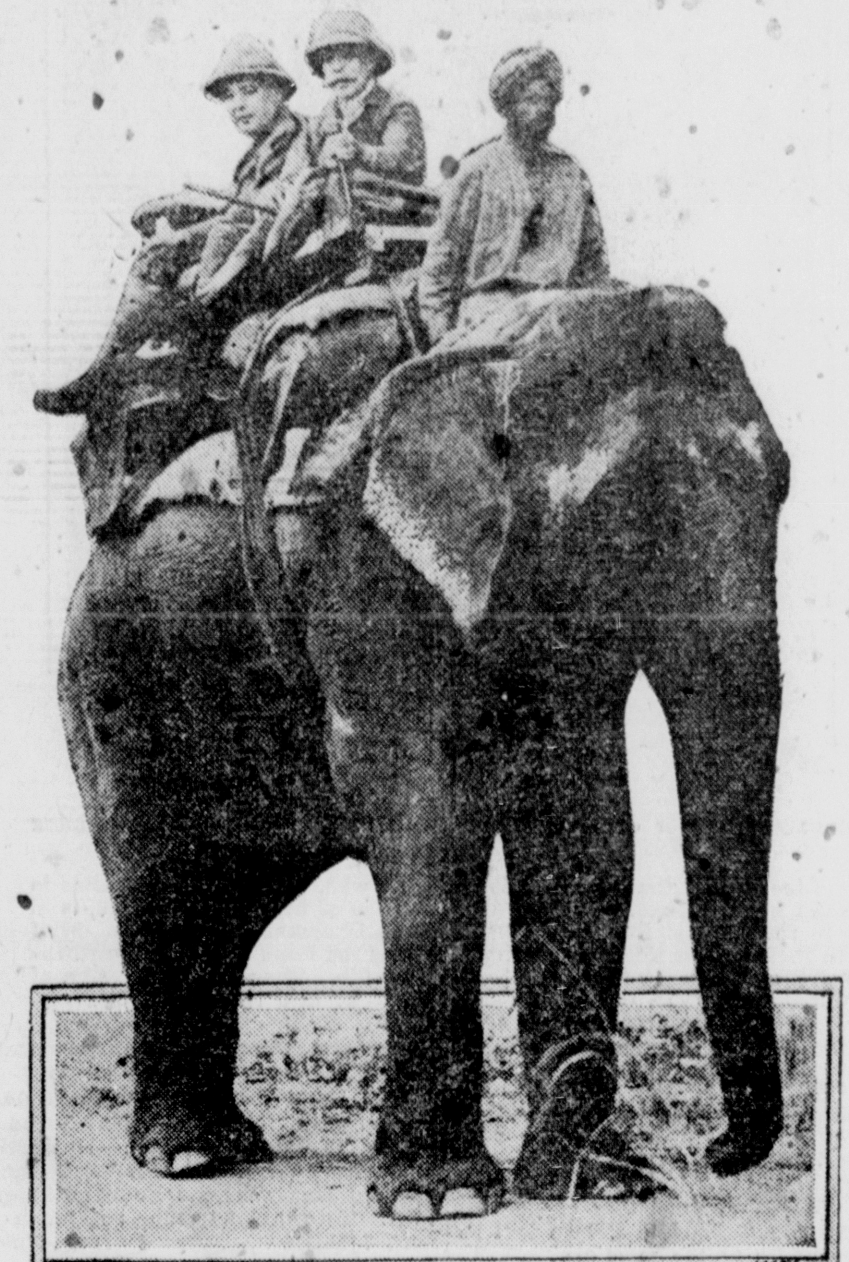

Cleveland, March 19.—Rep. C. C. Crabbe, speaker pro tem of the Ohio House of Representatives and author of the drastic prohibition law which bears his name, was held up in company with two others and the auto in which he was riding searched by a Cleveland policeman last night, seeking forbidden corn juice or other "spiruous, malt or vinous liquors."

The host of the foe of "red liquor" and all similar beverages professed in vain, telling the officer that his guest was the author of the act the provisions of which he was trying to force.
"You tell him, bottle, I'm dry," was the terse, if inelegant response, as he dug deep under lap robes searching for a bottle.
Nothing incriminating was found.

BANK CASHIER ARRESTED

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 19.—Charged with embezzling $11,000 from the First National Bank of Beaver, Pa., Daniel M. Reisinger, cashier of the institution, was arrested by a deputy United States marshal. The bank suspended business Monday.

Youth Confesses To Killing of Companion In Indiana

Virgil Decker Takes the Full Blame For Murder

Warsaw, Ind., March 19.—A complete confession in which he admitted the killing of Leroy Lovett of Elkhart at Atwood last Saturday and cleared others complicity in the murder, was made early today by Virgil Decker, 18, held in the Kosciusko county jail since Wednesday following his arrest in Marion, Ind., where he fled after the slaying.
Decker told Mrs. Charles B. Moon, wife of the sheriff, that "the devil made him do it."
This is the only explanation that Decker gives for the crime. His signed confession relates that Lovett and himself were sleeping in the cabin on the Tippecanoe river near Atwood, that he awoke first and struck Lovett over the head with an iron bar.
"When I left the cottage," reads the statement, "I thought he was dead."
When Decker returned several hours later, according to his confession, Lovett had pulled himself from the couch where he was sleeping when he was hit and was leaning against the side of the cabin.
Lovett was able to walk at this time, Decker says and he was assisted into the buggy which was driven to the railroad crossing and left there to be struck by the next train.
Decker's confession has not altered plans of county officials for the special session of the grand jury which has been called for Monday.
No mention was made by Decker of the alleged plot to defraud insurance companies of nearly $30,000 and authorities here believe that the grand jury investigation will reveal that Decker did not kill Lovett without advice or assistance from other persons.

PERSHING SPEAKER AT A. L. MEETING IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, March 19.—Officials of the American Legion expressed themselves today as being highly gratified by the great attendance at Madison Square Garden last night at the meeting held in protest at the recent "Rhine horror" gathering there.
Fully 15,000 persons jammed themselves into the big building while at least 10,000 more took part in overflow meetings outside. All of speakers emphasized "America first." General John J. Pershing was the chief speaker. Officials of the American Legion said similar meetings would be held throughout the country.

RETURN VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY"

Cleveland, March 19.—A verdict of "not guilty" was returned in Judge Florence L. Allen's court this morning in the case of Mrs. Maude Miller, charged with having murdered her husband on the night of Dec. 31.—Mrs. Miller declared that she shot her husband mistaking him for a burglar. The state contended that she had confessed to having killed him following a quarrel.

LONG TRIP NECESSARY.

Neffs, March 19.—The funeral party accompanying the body of Mrs. Edward Gilham to a cemetery had to travel 17 miles to make a trip that ordinarily would have meant two miles of travel. Because of bad roads it was necessary to go via Belleaire and Bridgeport to reach a cemetery two miles from Neffs.

STATE OF WAR FORMALLY ENDS FRIDAY NIGHT

Ukraine Is Party To the Treaty Signed by Three Nations.

SOVIET TRIUMPH Russia Will Pay Poland $15,000,000 Within One Year.

Riga, March 19.—The peace treaty between soviet Russia and Poland was signed here at 9:30 o'clock Friday night. Ukraine is party to the treaty and the Ukrainian representatives put their signatures upon it. The signing of the Polish treaty of peace ending a state of war that had existed for a year was the third triumph of the Russian soviet government within a week. A few days earlier the government had succeeded in putting down the anti-bolshevik uprising at Kronstadt, and about the same time a commercial agreement was signed with Great Britain.
The Russians, according to the treaty terms will pay Poland thirty million gold rubles ($15,000,000.) Soviet Russia has one year in which to pay this sum.

The final session of the peace conference began at 8:30 o'clock. The hall was decorated with flags and it was strange to note that there were several pictures of former Russian czars upon the walls. Dr. Joffe, head of the Russian delegation and M. Donski, head of the Polish delegation were two conspicuous figures at the head of the table.
After the signatures had been affixed Dr. Joffe took occasion to speak of the present status of soviet Russia.

"The soviet government at Moscow is getting stronger every day," said Dr. Joffe. "That is evident from the public developments. They are open for the whole world to see."
The full text of the treaty was read during the ceremonies. M. Donski opened this part of the formalities by reading the first ten clauses. Dr. Joffe followed reading the second ten. The last six were read by M. Potchinsky of the Ukrainian delegation.
After the signatures had been put upon the document Dr. Joffe and M. Donski reached across the table and cordially shook hands with one another.

SEVEN ARE KILLED IN IRISH BATTLE

VIOLENT SIX-HOUR SCRAP RAGES NEAR DUNGARVAN

London, March 19.—Seven persons were killed and one is missing as the result of a violent six hour battle between Sinn Feiners and British crown forces near Dungarvan, Ireland, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Dungarvan today.
The British soldier was killed and another is missing.
Six of the attackers were killed by troops.

STARTS CAMPAIGN TO ENFORCE LAW

Columbus, March 19.—A state wide campaign has been started by Samuel Lindey, chief state inspector of weights and measures, in cooperation with county and city sealers of weight and measures, for enforcement of the Griswold law requiring articles sold by weight to be sold at net weight.
This law, enacted two years ago forbids the salesmen from including in the weight, wood, paper, bur-lap, cord or any other material used to contain, or wrap the articles sold.

INFANT CHOKES ON BEAN; DIES

Canton, O., March 19.—Erline Pederson, 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pederson, is dead here, as the result of a bean lodged in her wind pipe. She picked up a while playing on the floor. The mother called a physician when the child went into a spasm of choking, but the infant had recovered by the time he arrived, and he thought that the bean had passed on into the stomach. During the night the child started choking again and was dead before the physician could return.

TRUCKS BLAMED.

Bucyrus, March 19.—The Crawford county commissioners estimate that the damage to the trucks and improved roads throughout the county due to heavy trucking during the past winter, approximates $250,000. Blame is placed upon the heavy trucks some of which carried as much as 15 tons over the roads.

CENTRAL HIGH FIVE PACEMAKERS IN MEET AT COLUMBUS SCHOOL

Coch Harold Confer's Central High School basketball team, remains one of the four undefeated teams Saturday, in the first "invitation tournament" held by Ohio State University this week end.

The crack local quintet showed the Columbus bugs, why it had come through to a runner-up position in the Ohio Wesleyan tournament recently, by beating West High of Columbus 30-22 in a contest that was a well-played exhibition of the court game.

Winners with Xenia in the State University tournament were Lincoln High of Cleveland, which team defeated Toledo Scott 25-21; Akron Central, which defeated Mt. Healthy of Cincinnati, 21-15, and McKinley High of Canton winners over Athens High 24-9. This leaves the local team, the only contestants from a small city still holding forth in the big meet.

The semi-finals and finals of the meet are scheduled for Saturday and are to be played in the coliseum at the Ohio State Fair Grounds. The preliminary games Friday were played in the Ohio State University gymnasium. In a consolation game Friday night Athens High defeated Mt. Healthy 30 to 15.

Central High, although it horned into the Columbus pastime on a raincheck, should feel especially honored in taking part in the "invitation tournament," first of its kind to be held at State. When the local authorities heard of the State University meet, they immediately applied for entrance. The State authorities, however, informed the local school that the tournament was an invitation affair, and that the teams had been picked.

When Youngstown High withdrew from the entrants the State University authorities were quick to invite the local school to play in the meet, which was originally scheduled as sort of a gladiator contest between the best teams of only the large cities in the state. The local pep snatched at the opportunity, and now bids fair to grab off all the ribbons, etcetera, that are being passed out by the tournament committee. It is thought that the showing of the local athletes in the Wesleyan tournament, had something to do with the invitation extended to Confer's charges.

CEDARVILLE FIVE WINDS UP SEASON WITH WIN FRIDAY

Cedarville College basketball quintet made its season's swan song a song of victory at Alford Gymnasium Friday night by defeating Defiance College 21-20 in one of the closest played contests of the season.

The game was rated as the hardest fought game of the Cedarville College season, with the teams nip and tuck from the getaway. It was the final game of the season for both teams. Lawrence Kiddle former Central High star, who is now attending Cedarville, played guard on the Reformed Presbyterian quintet.

In a preliminary game, the Cedarville College girls lost to the Wittenberg College girls team of Springfield 20-19, in another closely played game that was a thriller. The score was identical with that played at Springfield, when the Wittenberg sextette was returned winner before, 20-19. Miss Smith, the Cedarville girl's star forward, again shone, scoring all the points for her team.

PORT WILLIAM WINS CLINTON B. B. TITLE FROM WILMINGTON

Port William High School basketball team, which made a strong bid for honors in the tournament held here several weeks ago, today, the auspices of Central High School, defeated Wilmington High School for the championship of Clinton County Thursday night, 16-12.

The Port William lads were eliminated from the local tournament by Yellow Springs High, which team won the Central High meet, and then topped the county cup at the Andover tourney. It was the second time in as many seasons that Port William had snatched the county championship cup for the hands of the Quakers.

PLAN EXTENSION OF FARMERS' EXCHANGE

Plans for the extension of the interests of the Spring Valley Farmers' Exchange, a co-operative elevator company formed last year, will probably be taken up at the meeting to be held in Spring Valley Saturday evening.

The company now operates its only elevator at Roxanna, and it is understood that it is contemplating enlargement, by securing an elevator in Spring Valley. It is possible that the company will attempt to secure

YOUNG INFILDER WHO PLUGGED GAP IN INDIAN INFIELD READY FOR PLAY

Manager, Speaker of Indians talking to Joe Sewell at Dallas training camp.

Joe Sewell, the stocky little collegian who, playing his first time in major league company, proved the sensation of the 1920 campaign, is in trim for his first full season. When Ray Chapman, super-shortstop of the Indians, was killed by a pitched ball as the team plunged toward the pennant the gap left was a big one to fill. Sewell, a University of Alabama lad, was summoned and sent right into the game regularly. His hitting and fielding were sensational.

The elevator formerly used by the Spring Valley Mercantile Company at Spring Valley, which while not containing any machinery, is in good condition.

PITCHING SHOES OR PICKING PRESIDENT ALL SAME TO OHIO

Down in St. Petersburg, Fla., recently a gang of barnyard athletes chummed together and pitched off the horse shoe pitching championship of the United States.

And just to show them that Ohio is right there when it comes to slamming equine slippers of picking potential presidents, Charley Bobbitt, of Lancaster, Ohio, who tosses a mean set of iron oxfores, grabbed off the honors for this state.

All of which calls to mind that when the annual barnyard golf tournament was started back in 1918, it was one Fred M. Brust, of Columbus, who grabbed off the golden apple, and the next year George May, of Akron, was hailed as the champion barnyard golfer. Now after a brief sojourn with Frank Jackson, of Kelleteron, Ia., the championship laurels are resting again on the brow of old Ohio.

For the benefit of the weather bound bridge bugs, fight fans and football followers in this section of the country, it may be said that the tossing off of the national shoe slamming championship, was no mean affair in St. Petersburg circles.

According to Ike Friedman, Xenian, who has been jodging the cold weather in the Southern resort, the affair of deciding who is the best hand at tossing the iron shoe, was accepted in all seriousness by crowds that jammed the gallery at every game. Each day saw a number of players eliminated before the eyes of crowds of spectators.

The tourney is looked upon at St. Petersburg as the sport classic of the winter season, and the old-fashioned barn yard game is raised to a much higher plane through this revivifying process.

Charley Bobbitt, new champion of the United States, is the youngest of the four champs, who have won since the tournament was started four years ago, being but 24 years of age and rated as the "kid" champion.

Make Xenia the City Beautiful

Every school pupil is or ought to be interested in our city. We have good reason to be proud of it. It is a city of homes and in character is true to its name Xenia, a Greek word meaning "hospitality." It is capable however, of improvement and we wish to suggest that every one of our pupils take a deeper interest in our city improvement than ever before. There are several ways in which we can aid the improvement. First of all each of us should take an interest in his or her own home. We can remove anything unsightly from our front yards, keep the lawns in the best of shape and above all cultivate flowers. The most humble or unsightly homes may be made to look beautiful with flowering vines, our walks may be bordered by beautiful beds of marigolds, pink nasturtiums, and many other varieties of flowers. If the three hundred and fifty pupils in our High School alone would set to work with a vim to beautify our city as much as possible in our spare moments, Xenia would soon have a statewide reputation. The time to begin the good work is NOW. It will require comparatively little effort, but such effort put forth now will richly repay us as well as help our city. Let us aim to make Xenia a thing of beauty and enjoy forever, and bend every energy to achieve our aim.

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS? SEE FRENCH LETTERS

Why all the bustle and hurry to French Class every few days? The answer is plain to be seen. French letters!

Through the cooperation of the Bureau of International Correspondence the French pupils are given the wonderful opportunity of developing their education by corresponding with French boys and girls. Their letters are written in French and a great help to us. We write in English and we hope it is a benefit to them.

The correspondents are from widely separated parts, being from Paris northern and southern France. Algiers and one from Belgium which makes it very interesting.

Their customs are peculiar to us and no doubt ours are to them. One of customs which seemed most peculiar to us, was the separate school for boys and girls. In reply to what was written them concerning our co-ed schools, one fair mademoiselle wrote, "J'aimerais bien vivre comme on le fait chez vous." Translated it means, "I would indeed like to live like they do in your country." So you can see clearly that American customs are by far the better. Through these French letters it is to be found that immigration will increase from France but alas—ships will be going only one way.

They afford us many amusing times when they write in English. Perhaps if they have a high school paper, such as we have, snubs from our letters are appearing there much to their enjoyment. But all is fair in love, war, and letter writing.

Many beautiful views have been received by us which give us a more vivid insight into their modes of living. Art is one of the required subjects in their schools, many very unique things are sent which we highly prize.

One fair mademoiselle is interested in our past election. She wishes to know what President Harding is planning to do. You see we have a chance to pull one vote either Republican or Democrat. Our French class may become a political machine so beware of grafters. The above mentioned girl was also very indignant that U. S. But not a member of the League. But she must wait and see what the new administration brings forth. This would be thoroughly enjoyed by every one except for one thing the decided statement that the bureau would not serve as a matrimonial agency. So boys to boys and girls to girls. ALUMNI NOTES

The many friends of Olive Huston class of '18 were pleased to see her at the Antioch tournament in the role of referee of the girls' games. Her work on the floor was highly commended and no one questioned the fairness of her decisions. She has always been interested in athletics for girls and is training at Delaware for a Physical Director.

Miss Leila Harley of Fort Myers, Florida spent several days in Xenia last week. She was called to Dayton by the death of her brother. Miss Harley is the manager of the Leon Hotel at Fort Myers and has done a flourishing business there for several years. Many Xenia people visit her hotel on their annual trips to Florida. She spends her summers at Lakeside and where she owns a large cottage and manages another cottage near by. She has been very successful in her business venture.

Oran Collins came into Senior play practice in the drawing room of the Manual Training department about twenty minutes late.

Miss Elwell—"Oran, you're late, how does it come that you didn't get here on time?"

Oran (sober as a judge)—"Yes, and if there would have been any more rooms in this building I wouldn't be here yet."

DEBATING SOCIETY MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION MONDAY

The Central High Debating Society met in regular session Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, with a very good attendance.

The meeting was called to order by President, Horace Smith, who after announcing the program for the evening turned the meeting over to Jessiemae Uhl.

The program consisted of a debate, the subject of which was "Resolved That Immigration Should be Restricted For A Period of Two Years."

The affirmative side was upheld by Margaret Davis and Margaret Webster and the negative was supported by Horace Smith, and George Shoup. The rebuttal being made by Margaret Davis for the affirmative, and Horace Smith, for the negative.

The Judges, Miss Coffin, Miss Park, and Mr. Pendry, returned a verdict in favor of the negative.

The chairman called upon Supt. Waltz and he responded with a short talk on the advantages of such a Society and on the progress already made.

Following this speech with no more business to transact we adjourned to meet April 7, at 7:30 p. m.

We wish to extend a hearty invitation to all High school students, and their friends, to be present at this next meeting, and take an active part in all discussions.

JAMESTOWN CLASS PLAY TO BE GIVEN

Central High School is showing great interest in the play that is to be given on April first, in Jamestown by their Junior class. The play is the same as was given last year by our Junior class here, "The College Town." We might suggest that the last year's cast at least, go and see themselves as others saw them. We are with you, Jamestown, and wish you all the success possible.

IN MEMORIAM

Albert Ross, a member of the class of '23 passed away at his home on South Monroe Street, Sunday afternoon. He was one of the jolliest, most likable fellows that attended Central High, greeting everyone with a smile or joke. Last fall when the call came for football candidates he was among those who responded first although he was in ill health. His entire High School career was one of devotion to the school. He was compelled to leave school at the end of semester because of failing health. Until his death he followed the activities of his fellow students in whatever they did. Central High has lost one of the best pupils it has ever had and we join with the family in their sorrow.

SENIOR SCRIBBLINGS

Martha Bryson has been confined to her home for several days, on account of the grip. We hope she will soon recover and again be with us at Central High.

Among the Seniors who attended the basketball tournament at Yellow Springs, Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12, were Richard Considine, Clark Lackey, Doc Donges, William Davidson, Nelson Barnes.

Barry Birch, Martha Finley, Gertrude Jones, Mildred Jones, Lucille Chambliss, Eleanor Reutinger, Marion Kyle, Ruth Whittington, Margaret Davis, Marjory Douthett, Jessiemae Uhl.

The Kutztown Keenest Carnival, which was to be held March 15, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the death of a student at Central High School, Master Albert Ross.

On Monday, March 14, the Seniors held a class meeting to make arrangements for their commencement invitations. Mr. President was quite indignant when no one was exceedingly flushed with money. So on Tuesday Reba Anders became the collector.

JUNIOR HIGH NEWS

Junior High School was delightfully entertained Monday morning in the auditorium by Miss Ballantyne, who gave an interesting talk on India.

Miss Ballantyne related some of her very exciting experiences while there, and told them in a very charming way. This program was one of the best year and I am sure we all enjoyed it immensely.

Junior High has certainly missed Miss Harper who has been confined to her home this week on account of a very "skeery" play was put on in us again.

A very "skeery play" was put on in the auditorium Tuesday by three boys of 8A. It surely was "great" and between the dreadful noises and the ghosts we were all badly frightened.

Harold Crawford of 8A section, who was painfully injured when struck by an automobile while skating to school last Friday afternoon, has greatly improved.

Preparations for St. Patrick's Day are being made here now.

The picture show Friday afternoon was unusually good.

The seventh grade girls are greatly enjoying the work in Miss Farrell's room now.

The Boys' Club of McKinley is a great success. We are just about to initiate our new members. The Club has organized a choir which in time will develop some singers. We have meetings on Monday night. When our chancellor, Edgar Holton starts anything we know it is something worth while. Mr. Black is our most important member, having the honor of starting us. The boys appreciate what he has done, and are showing him we are behind anything he starts.

The illness of Miss Harper has knocked us in the head. We, the civic classes, miss her especially. Things don't seem McKinley without her. Her home room C misses her also. We hope she will be back this week and start us out again.

We have organized in Civics, Science, English and Manual Training. It certainly pays to do it. If the teacher steps out we go ahead with our work. We have committees for cleaning up the floor, but each person helps. We have the same style of government that Xenia has. First the class elects five commissioners, the one getting the largest votes is the president of commissioners. They meet and elect a manager. The manager has various things to do. He appoints committees on public welfare. He also attends to running of the class.

In mathematics we are having a race. The principles are review ones and are easy to work. It is hard to tell who is ahead because we are working with so much pep and vim.

FRESHMEN STAGE FACTURING CONTEST

A factoring contest was staged by the five Freshman Algebra classes Tuesday afternoon, seventh period, the entire class assembling in room G.

Each class entered two contestants either by election, preliminary contests, or choice by teacher.

Lucille Denham, of Mr. Pendry's class, was deemed champion of all "Freshie" facturers when she jumped to the lead in the first part of the hour and remained there until the last. Her individual score which resulted in victory for her class was 24 points.

Her most dangerous opponent was Kathryn Miller, of Mr. Barr's class, whose individual score was just one point less than that of Lucille.

Mr. Pendry, Mr. Creswell and Mr. Barr conducted the contest. The rules for scoring were:

When a contestant completes work he immediately turns his back upon the board and is not permitted to turn again to correct any hitherto unnoticed error.

The first person through with the correct answer is awarded 2 points, the second 1.

The contestants were, Lucille Denham and Phillip Frame from Mr. Pendry's class; Robert Stevens and Mildred Mason from Mr. Creswell's class, and Florence Chew, Harley Brewer, Margaret Little, Kathryn Miller, Ruth Middleton and Guy Glyn from Mr. Barr's three classes.

JUNIORS PLAN THEIR RECEPTION

The Juniors are now busy planning their reception. Their committee has been chosen, and is working hard on the details that have to be settled early. They have set the date for May 13, but the place has not been definitely decided upon. However the menu has been made out and it promises to be the most appetizing that has ever been served.

Miss Lane was called home last week on account of the death of her grandmother.

MAKE PLANS FOR SOPHOMORE AND SENIOR PLAYS

Next Thursday evening, March 24, the Seniors and Sophomores will stage their respective plays, which will be given for the benefit of the Review.

There has been much secrecy lately in the planning for the coming event. Besides the two plays, each class will give some hair-raising, thrills, stunts, so everybody come who wants their vocal cords exercised. All the participants have work hard and strenuously to make the entire evening one of pleasure for everyone, and you will miss the time of your life if you miss this.

"Her Busy Day" is the title of the Senior play and the characters are: Misses Ruth Whittington, Olivia Cost, Mamie Burrell, Frances Loyd, and Marjorie Douthett and Messers Ralph Donges, Philip Moore, Lewis McCoy, John Moore and Thomas Kennedy. These actors and actresses are well suited to the play and will more than please Xenia's Opera fans.

"West of Omaha" is the title of the Sophomore play, the characters being: Messers Horace Smith, John Wood, Donald Currie, and Roger Lynn, and Misses Helen Harley, Grace Jones and Mary McFadden.

These characters are also talented along the acting line. Come everybody, and bring your friends or enemies, and see what Xenia High School can do. Back up the school, the young people, the future citizens of this prosperous community. Every minute of the evening will be one of enjoyment, and if you are not satisfied we guarantee your money back.

SPORTS

SOPHOMORES AND SENIORS WINNERS IN INITIAL GAME

The Seniors and Sophomores were the winners in the first round of the inter-class games Thursday afternoon at the Rink, the Seniors defeating the Juniors 7-3 and the Freshmen losing to the Sophomores.

The first game proved to be close and somewhat rough, and although the Juniors played hard to obtain the few points necessary to overcome the Seniors, they were forced to take defeat.

Close guarding was displayed by both sides which explains the low score. Lackey and Curlett starred for the Seniors while Randall was the Junior's Mainstay.

Lineup and summary:
Seniors (7) Juniors (3)
Wead lf Purdom
Lackey rf Randall
Donges c Terrell
Davidson lg Reutinger
Curlett rg Crow

Substitutions: Considine for Wead, McCoy for Considine, Irwin for Purdom, Arnold for Reutinger, Houston for Crow.

Scoring: Field goals: Reutinger 1, Lackey 1, Donges 1, Fouls: Lackey 3, Irwin 1.

Time, 15 minute halves. Referee Creswell.

In the second game the Freshmen sprung a surprise by holding the Sophomores to a 14-11 score. The Sophomores were picked to win easily but the Freshmen disputed the championship of the two lower classes till the final whistle blew.

The score at the end of the first half stood 13-4 in favor of the Sophs, while in the second half the Freshmen obtained 7 points to the Sophomores 1.

Line-up and summary:
Sophs (14) Freshmen (11)
Vannorsdall lf Mutersap
Shaw rf Spah
Cowan c Yeakly
Currie lg Fuller
Witham rg Cost

Substitutions: Wolary for Shaw, Shaw for Williams, Douthett for Currie, Holman for Witham, Cross for Fuller.

Scoring: Field goals: Vannorsdall 2, Shaw 2, Cowan 1, Currie 1, Fouls: Yeakly 2, Mutersap 2, Yeakly 1, Shaw 1. Time 15 minute halves. Referee Creswell.

"PEP" MEETING PRECEDES TOURNAY

At the close of school Friday morning a brief pep meeting was called to give the basket ball team a good send off to the tournament and to get the persons intending to attend the tournament in good condition to use their voices there.

Mr. Pendry gave a short talk and then turned the meeting over to Thomas Kennedy, the cheer leader. Cheer after cheer went up, enthusiasm swelled, and Miss Haynes led the enthusiastic mob in some high school songs.

LOVING CUPS CHANGE PLACES

The case containing the loving cups and other trophies won in the basket-ball, has been moved from its former place on the abandoned third floor to the lower hall.

If you have very keen eyes that can see through the dirt on the glass you will be able to see that there are three silver cups denoting that Xenia won second honors in the County Tournament and one large one standing for County championship.

LENTEN SACRIFICES

Father's gave up billiards (Since he lamed his wrist). Sister's gave up dancing. Mother's gave up whist. Folks with no bad habits. Still may have some hope. They can get in line like me, I have gave up soap.

Miss Turner, who will have charge of this department, has conducted similar work in Wellesley and Smith Colleges and the Woman's Educational and Industrial union at Boston.

SELECTION OF MANAGER NOW HOLDS ATTENTION

The selection of a manager for the Greene County Livestock Shipping Association, will again occupy attention at the meeting of directors of that organization, to be held Saturday afternoon.

The question of selecting a Manager has been paramount in the minds of the directors since the organization was formed, but as nothing definite has been decided so far, it is hoped to make a final selection at this meeting. There are about six applicants for the position, it is understood.

WILL MAKE LIST OF FORMER GREENE COUNTY RESIDENTS

Harry A. Stiles of Los Angeles, former Xenian, who is secretary of the Greene County Society of Southern California, is arranging to publish a small pamphlet of the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all former Greene County people who are living in Southern California.

The pamphlet will go to press some time between May 1 and May 30, in order to be ready for the convention of Elks which will be held in Los Angeles in July. The Greene County Society also plans to hold another one of its famous basket picnics during the Elks' convention week.

In compiling his pamphlet Mr. Stiles asks that all former Greene county people now in southern California send him their names, street address and telephone numbers, at once, so that the directory will be complete. Mr. Stiles' address is 1318 Maryland, Los Angeles. Telephone Broadway 3032.

HORSE TAKEN PROVES EXPENSIVE

Dayton, O., March 19.—"Raisin Jack Sue," so dubbed by the City of Dayton, since she has been in custody after a rig load of raisin jack was confiscated is "eating her head off" according to a report to City Manager Barlow. The horse has been held three weeks and will be either sold or returned to her owner on payment of the feed bill. He says the bill is more than the horse is worth.

TAXES ON HOUSTON HOLDINGS HELD TO BE TOO LARGE

Taxes assessed against Houston land holdings in and around South Charleston are held to be excessive by trustees of the Houston interests and protest has been filed with the board of revision of Clark county. The action threatens a serious shortage in money for the village of South Charleston, which depends to a large extent on the taxes received from the Houston holdings. Many improvements planned by the village officials, including a section of paving, are being held up pending settlement of the tax cases. It is estimated that $5,000 in taxes is involved.

Stewart L. Tatum, attorney representing the village, said that the board of revision is expected to act next week and that if the decision is favorable to the Houston interests, the village will carry the case to the state tax commission for adjustment. Taxes for last December and next June are involved in the protest.

Mr. Stebbins had been an invalid for several months, his condition growing critical within the last few days. Mrs. Whittington went to Dayton, Friday because of the seriousness of his illness, which resulted in his death Saturday morning.

Funeral services will be held at the late home Monday afternoon at two o'clock and the remains will be brought to this city for burial in Woodland Cemetery.

NEAT SUM REALIZED BY SUPPER FRIDAY FOR LOCAL SCHOOL

With every reservation sold, insuring 200 guests, the supper given by the Parent-Teachers Association, of the Central Grades, at the Reformed Church for the benefit of the Opportunity School Friday night was a success.

Patrons and parents of the school children showed splendid interest in aiding the raising of funds for the young pupils of the new school, which was shown by the quick sale of tickets for the supper, which netted the Association $160.

Tickets for the supper sold at 50 cents a plate. The two hundred patrons were seated at once and were served at long tables arranged in the church.

Following the serving of the supper long tables arranged in the church. Following the serving of the supper, a cake auction was held increasing the funds raised by the supper.

The money will be used to furnish food and clothing for the pupils of the Opportunity School which was inaugurated in this city during the past winter and has shown large advancement.

The supper made possible through the work of the members of the Parent-Teachers Association who have taken the school under their wing and have afforded standard instruction and care of the pupils.

The committee in charge of the donations and the serving of the supper composed of Mrs. Howard Little, Mrs. Roy Haywood, Mrs. David H. Fittz and Mrs. David Cherry.

COUNTY FARMERS WILL GO OVER TOP IN CORN QUOTA

"It looks now like Greene County will go over the top," said County Agent Ford S. Prince Saturday, regarding the campaign being conducted by the Greene County Farm Bureau to secure this county's quota of the 500,000 bushels of corn to be sent to Europe by Ohio for European and Near East Relief.

Reports from the Bureau's township chairman who are handling the drive in their districts, indicate now that this county will not fall behind in the effort to secure the 12,000 or 15,000 bushels that will practically represent Greene County's share in the drive.

In order that the County will not fall behind it is necessary to secure from 800 to 1,500 bushels of corn from each township, or an average of about 1,000 bushels. So far the reports indicate that this quota will be reached, although many are forced to give money instead of corn. This money will be used to purchase corn at the elevators, and will assist just as much in making up the quota.

The day of shipment has been set for Thursday, March 24, at which time the railroads of the country will convey the loaded cars of corn to the seaboard, free of charge. Six cars have been ordered for this county, according to County Agent Prince and others will be ordered as it is thought necessary. Of the first consignment of cars, two to be consigned to Xenia, two to Cedarville, one to Yellow Springs and one to Alpha.

OBITUARY

KATIE GERTRUDE MASON

The heroism of a frail little girl, through long months of patient suffering, up to the hour when she calmly and gracefully accepted the realization that she was soon to die, has touched and inspired the lives of those who knew Katie Gertrude Mason. She died Saturday March 5, 1921.

This little girl, the daughter of Jesse Mason, was stricken with partial paralysis during her first term in the third grade at school last fall. The brave, but steadily losing fight for life that she put up through the weary hours and days and months that followed attracted the attention of many who were made better for having witnessed her uncomplaining struggle.

The wan little face that looked wistfully out on the revels of healthy and happy playmates who passed her window on Whitman street grew daily more pallid and lovely and otherworldly, as the knowledge gradually came to her that she was never again to share those childish joys.

And the day came when she sighed and closed the school books which she had studied with failing strength but unflinching determination throughout her illness, and she confided to her loved ones that she would never get well. And then the hour when she said "Please hold my head up, Grandma, until I go Home—it will not be long," and her spirit went bravely forth to the realm where all are children again and where there is no suffering.

Throughout her illness the constant and yearning tenderness of Grandma Mason and her uncle, Homer Mason, lightened with love the path up whither the little sufferer bore her cross.

She was buried Wednesday, March 9th, after having been

EX-SECRETARY LANSING SHOWS MORE LIGHT ON DOINGS AT THE PARIS PEACE TABLE.

Questions of State come and go. And there is no denying the fact that the one great question before the people of the United States, for the last two years, has been President Wilson and the League of Nations.

We had joined with many other great powers to crush Germany's ruthless aggression of the rights of others. The four years bloody contest had resulted in Germany's defeat.

Then came the task of making a Treaty, embodying Reparations for damage done, and Promise for future good behavior.

Then came the Treaty of Versailles—the working out features of which were later made at Paris—and the United States as one of the Allied forces against Germany, being a party participant.

Many thought it an unbecoming thing for the head of our nation to inject himself into the great work of making this Treaty, involving his absence from the United States for many months. But we guess he asked nobody's advice on this subject. He simply went, taking with him his personal friend Mr. House and his Secretary of State, Robert Lansing.

As the United States Senate would have to ratify the Treaty made, it would have been a gracious thing to have had one or two members thereof on this important mission. But they were not invited.

It has been hinted, that at Paris Mr. Wilson seemed to have little care for Robert Lansing's suggestions about the Treaty. Perhaps this can be accounted for on the ground that Mr. Lansing felt that the President was wholly given over to his own child, the League of Nations, and let the other large nations "gobble" as their interests indicated in the Treaty matter.

They came home. And some months ago, the President found that his mind and that of Secretary Lansing "did not run together," and virtually asked the latter to resign, which he did, but announced that after the 5th of March he would have something to say about affairs at the Paris Treaty table.

Now he is publishing his "say" in the Saturday Evening Post, and a mighty interesting say it is. As President Wilson and the League of Nations were the vital "issues" in the recent election, we are sure that nothing will be more interesting to our readers than extracts from Mr. Lansing's splendid article. He says:

"As the leaders of the Allied Powers with their practical ideas came to a realization of the situation and saw that the President was willing to concede much in exchange for support of the covenant, they utilized his supreme desire to obtain by barter material advantages for their own nations. From the results of the negotiations it may be deduced that by clever representations they gained concession after concession. The apparent support of the idealism of the President by these statesmen was in my opinion chiefly for a purpose and not out of conviction. They loudly applauded the President's declarations of principle as the just bases of peace, but they never once attempted to apply them unless their own national interests were advanced. They praised the covenant as a wonderful document, as the Magna Charta of the world, as an eternal memorial to its author, and they subtly flattered the President by confiding to the league every question which could not be immediately solved, ostensibly to show their faith in the proposed organization, but really to postpone the settlement of dangerous disputes.

"If the President had inflexibly demanded that no terms should be written into the treaty which were not wholly just he would have gone far toward accomplishing the purpose of his mission to Europe. And if he had also advocated a plan for a League of Nations which was not open to the charge of establishing a supernational authority, vested to all intents in an oligarchy of the Great Powers, he would have been acclaimed the greatest statesman on earth. Unfortunately for the present generation and for the future peace of the world, he did not pursue this course, but distorted his declared purpose to silence opposition to his ambitious conception of a dominant international organization. The natural conclusion is that he convinced himself that the covenant as drafted could not be obtained if he insisted on complete justice in all the settlements. He chose the covenant and won support to it by compromise with those who demanded the material rewards of conquest.

"The truth is, as some saw it in Paris and as others have seen it since the negotiation and signature of the treaty, there should have been drafted a preliminary treaty of peace, avoiding as far as possible all controversial and complex questions and restoring a state of peace with little delay. When the great need of the world had been thus satisfied the negotiation of the definitive treaty and the plan for an organization of the nations could have been taken up separately with the care and deliberation to which they were entitled and under conditions more favorable to the formation of just and wise settlements."

UNCLE SAM'S OLIVE BRANCH.

It is expected that President Harding will act soon in response to the Senate's unanimous resolution, at the end of the last session, asking him to invite Great Britain and Japan to a disarmament conference. As the unanimity of a seldom unanimous Senate suggests, there are ample reasons for such a conference, and no sound reasons against it. There can be no possible danger in it, because the invitation does not commit the United States to any particular policy before hand, and any recommendations made by the conference itself must be submitted to the President and Congress for approval before they become effective.

The public is plainly in favor of any limitation of armament, by sea or land, which can be undertaken without risking the national safety, and the general estimate of the margin of safety is much lower than that demanded by the jingoes.

There is every indication that the partial disarmament contemplated is likewise in popular favor in the other countries concerned. The British and Japanese governments have both professed themselves friendly to such curtailment, and if this forthcoming conference accomplishes nothing more, it will test their good faith and show America what to expect and prepare for.

Above all, this venture is a pledge of good faith on the part of the United States, which has always been foremost in its advocacy of a sane pacifism. It will hold out to the world a sword in one hand and an olive branch in the other, recommending the olive branch but holding the sword in reserve for use if the peaceful proffer is refused. The knowledge that the most powerful nation on earth is ready to lead either in armament or disarmament, according to the warlike or peaceful decision of the other powers, should decide the issue, and turn the nation's thoughts at last definitely toward the peace so long delayed.

THE BURNING QUESTION—WHY NOT LEAVE THE PIANO UNTIL AFTER THE FAMILY IS RESCUED?

1901—Twenty Years Ago—1921

In digging the trenches for the sewer on South Detroit street the workmen came upon a relief of Xenia's early days in the way of an old corduroy road bed buried some six or eight feet beneath the surface of the present grade of the street. The wood was of white oak and black walnut and after the long burial in the earth 50 or 75 years, is in an excellent state of preservation.

Dr. Sillito has been devoting most of his time for the past few days to a large carbuncle, which made its appearance on the back of his neck.

The Rapid Transit line has been making a number of improvements in one of the small cars to be used on Detroit street. It has been newly painted and new seats have been put in, and it bears the words "O. S. and S. O. Home," altogether presenting a different appearance.

TO DISCUSS RATE INCREASE AT MEET

The new telephone rate question will be the topic under discussion at an open forum meeting to be conducted by the Chamber of Commerce at the opera house, Monday, April 11. The Chamber of Commerce is conducting the fight of the city against the last rate increase put in effect by the Ohio Telephone Company, and the Chamber's attorney, C. L. Darlington, carried the case before the State Utilities Commission several weeks ago. The outcome is now pending upon the decision of that body. All the testimony introduced by the Company in its support of the rate increase, is now at the Chamber of Commerce where it can be inspected by anyone interested. At the open forum meeting, which will be in the nature of a Town Meeting, Mr. Darlington will preside and a representative of the Telephone Company will be permitted to explain the Company's side of the case. Everyone in the city is invited and an open discussion will conclude the meeting.

BURROUGHS HAS RECOVERED

Pasadena, Cal., March 19.—John Burroughs, naturalist, was back again in his winter home, a cabin in Pasadena Glen, completely recovered, it was said, from the minor ailment which caused him to go to a hospital several weeks ago. He said he would depart for the East March 21, in order to reach his home at Riverly, N. Y., in time to celebrate there April 3, the eighty-fourth anniversary of his birth.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF ELIAS HICKS March 19, 1748

One of the most prominent of the early American Quakers was Elias Hicks, who was born in Hempstead, Long Island, in 1748. His parents were Friends, but he took little interest in religion until he was about 20 years old. At 17 he had been apprenticed to a carpenter, at 20 he gave this up to become a farmer. Then it was that he began to feel, as he expressed it, "Openings leading to the Ministry."

These became so strong that he set out as an itinerant preacher when he was 30, preaching at all the meetings between Vermont and Maryland. He attacked slavery even in Maryland and was influential in having an act passed in New York freeing all slaves in that state. This was 1817. He died at Jericho, Long Island in 1830.

His preaching was practical rather than religious, and he was very much opposed to any set creed. Yet he had a very strong creed of his own—so strong that he caused a split between Quakers into those who called themselves the "Liberals" or the Hicksites and the rest who became known as the Orthodox party. For a time the Hicksites outnumbered the others.

Essentially, Elias Hicks' preaching did not differ from that of the Unitarians of today.

Lime for Larger Crops More Profit With Less Labor Use MARL

(Spring-water Sediment Agricultural Limestone)

It is equal, pound for pound, to the highest-priced agricultural lime on the market, and sells for less.

Marl neutralizes the acidity and improves the mechanical condition of the soil, allowing cultivation earlier after a rain, for it is more soluble than any other form of lime.

And it may be applied any time during the year.

AGENTS WANTED

KEEPING BUSY.

When attending to my spinning, or whatever tasks are mine, I don't see my neighbors sinning—I suppose they're acting fine. While I fumigate my chickens or repair the kitchen flue, folks may act up like the dickens, I don't notice what they do. Oh, I'm singing, angel-throated, as I tinker in the rain, and my thoughts are all devoted to my labors safe and sane. So I do not hear the scandals that are flying through the town, and I do not meet the vandals who would wreck some fair renown. And I miss the vicious stories that the gossips weave all day, for I hoe my morning glories in the good old fashioned way. Busy people do not peddle tales that stir up human strife; busy people do not meddle with the dirty dregs of life; they are thinking of achievement, of the toil that makes a hit, and they know their great bereavement when the darkness makes them quit. Idlers spend their time inventing tales that make old Satan grin, they're the sleuth-hounds that are scenting every trail that hints of sin; and the wholesome lads are sweating at the golden moments flit, only worrying and fretting when the darkness makes them quit.

McPHERSON CLUB IS GREETED WITH A PACKED HOUSE

The McPherson Community Club was greeted with a packed house at McPherson school Thursday evening.

The entertainment consisted of readings, sketches, dialogues, exercises and music by an orchestra composed of Leander Spahr, Marion Barre and daughter Ruth, and Mrs. John Soward.

The playlet, "How the Story Grew," by eight ladies brought about the greatest applause. Supt. Barnes gave a talk on boys and girls' club work.

The next program will be arranged by a committee of men composed of Leigh Hutchison, Virgil Martin and William Billingsmyer.

Mr. Eickman illuminated the affair with the Deleo Lighting System.

MOTOR AIDS

If you have a multiple disk clutch, of the metal to metal variety, it is a good idea to flush it out with kerosene and remove the lubricant occasionally. The same advice applies to the gear box and to the transmission case. Use a lighter grease in winter than in summer.

As a general rule for the engine if it has not worn itself out and is in fairly good condition, medium oil should be used. As a final step in looking over the car for spring running, refill the grease cups, oil the distributor and shaft of the ignition outfit with a few drops of good oil, doing the same to the armature shaft of the generator and oil holes. See, too, that your tires are inflated to their proper pressure.

COME DOWN FROM DISTRUST OF FELLOW MAN SAYS PREACHER

Audiences that fill the First Methodist Church each night to hear Rev. G. A. Scott have found that he wins his audience with sermons that contain a human appeal. Emotionalism does not enter the character of Rev. Scott's forceful speaking. This was proved at Friday night's services. Taking for his example Zaccheus, who climbed into a sycamore tree and heard Jesus, and Jesus having known his desire, chose this man who was despised and rejected of all men, and loved him and was his friend. Rev. Scott spoke to his large audience upon "The Democracy of Jesus." Dr. Scott said in part: "Jesus said to Zaccheus, 'Come down,' and he did not only mean down from the tree he was in, but down from the distrust of the people he lived among. Down from his lack of confidence in the power of truth and righteousness to control a life. Down from sin, which kept him from God and salvation. Christ made Zaccheus. He was his friend by saying 'Come, I will go home with you for dinner.' And Zaccheus heard the voice of his friend. He made haste and came down, not only to take Christ into his home, but also into his heart. The biggest possession that ever came to Zaccheus and his house was the salvation which Jesus brought. This is the biggest possession that any one can gain. Everyone shall find this possession who hears the voice of Christ and comes to him.

Friday night Mr. Hackleman spoke upon the influence of John Calvin the reformer of hymns and church music, which was followed by a short history of "The Rock of Ages," which was written in 1776. His solo Friday night was "He Loved Me So Tenderly," which was illustrated with 20 beautiful colored slides. The usual song service followed this program.

Mr. Hackleman announces that at the Sunday morning service he will give a talk upon "The Story Must Be Told." On Sunday night he will give his second picture study entitled "Christ Before Pilate." This picture was painted in Paris in the year 1881 and more than two million people paid the price of admission to see it in a private studio in that city.

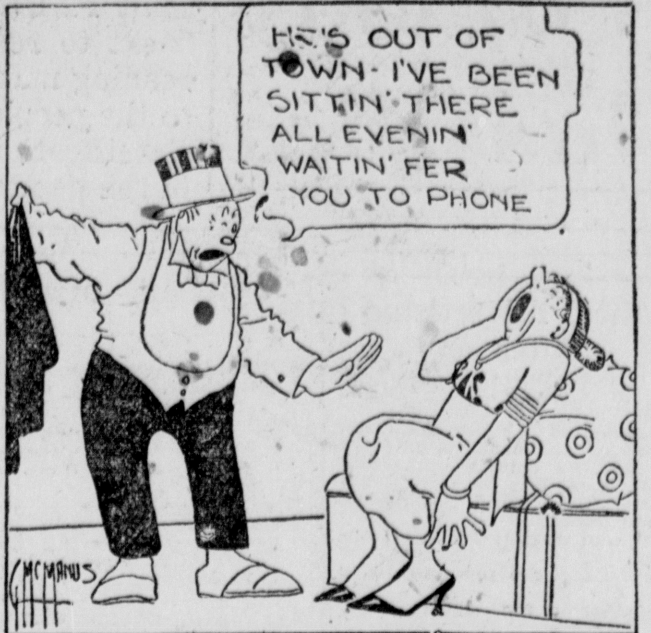

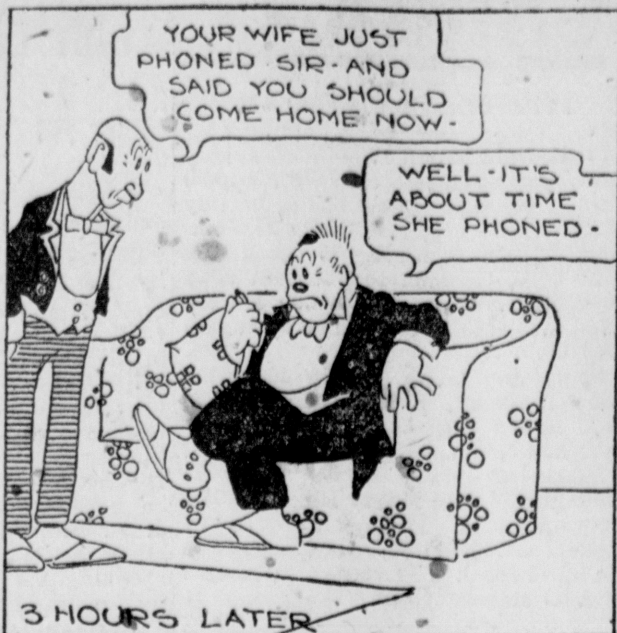

In 1886 it was taken to New York City where it was placed on exhibition and later purchased by John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, and is now in an art gallery in that city. Mr. Hackleman's solo will follow the showing of the picture and will be "What Will You Do With Jesus?"

C. OF C. WILL AID IN DRIVE FOR CORN

The Chamber of Commerce will cooperate with the Greene County Farm Bureau in its campaign to secure Greene County's quota of corn for European and Near East Relief.

The Farm Bureau, through its campaign committee and sub-committee consisting of township chairman and assistants all over the county, is conducting an active campaign to secure this county's quota of grain before the final day of the drive, March 24. The Chamber of Commerce has now agreed to assist the Farm Bureau by accepting the subscriptions of Xenia people. People who have no corn are not exempt from subscribing to the fund, as they can contribute money with which the grain can be purchased at the elevators and loaded for shipment.

Following the address by Captain Harty Hurd, of Springfield, in which he explained the sufferings of the famine-stricken peoples of the Near East, there are undoubtedly many who would wish to contribute to any cause to aid them, and they are given this opportunity by leaving their subscriptions at the Chamber of Commerce.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Baked Bananas—Cut two bananas in halves, lengthwise. Place in shallow dish and baste with lemon juice, melted butter and sugar, baking twenty minutes in a slow oven.

Cream of Lima Bean Soup—One and one-half cups water which dried lima beans have been cooked in and any beans left over mashed fine and added. Heat an equal quantity of milk, add, and thicken with butter and flour cooked together, one tablespoon each; season to taste.

Fruit Salad—One-half cup each of orange and grapefruit pulp, sliced bananas and diced apple. Any other fruit combination, canned or fresh fruit, may be used. Mix with fruit salad dressing and serve on lettuce.

Almond Custard—One quart of scalded milk, three-quarters cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, four eggs, one cup almonds and one-quarter teaspoon almond flavoring. Blanch and crush the nuts and add to them a few drops of almond extract. Scald the milk in a double boiler. Beat the eggs and mix part of the milk with the eggs, salt and sugar; add the remainder of the milk. Stir the mixture until it thickens sufficiently to coat a spoon, add the crushed almonds and cook a few minutes longer. Serve hot or cold.

TASTY SAUCES.

Mustard Sauce—One-half cup of vinegar, one and one-quarter tablespoons cornstarch, two tablespoons finely chopped pickles, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup water, two tablespoons shortening, one teaspoon ground mustard.
Melt the shortening, add dry ingredients, cook until mixture thickens, and then pour on the liquid. Add the pickles last. This is an excellent sauce for baked or broiled fish.

Epicurean Sauce—One tablespoon vinegar, two tablespoons grated horseradish, one teaspoon mustard, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains of cayenne, one cup whipped cream, three tablespoons mayonnaise.
Mix together the vinegar, horseradish, mustard, salt and cayenne; add the whipped cream and mayonnaise dressing. Beat thoroughly.

Tomato Sauce—Four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons browned flour, two-thirds teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup tomato juice, one onion, one-half tablespoon minced parsley, one cup fish stock, one-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
Melt the butter, add the browned flour, salt and pepper and stir until a smooth paste is formed. Add the sliced onion and sugar to the tomato juice and simmer ten minutes, then strain. Add the strained tomato juice and parsley chopped fine to the hot fish stock or water. Stir the two mixtures together and cook in a double boiler for about twenty minutes, stirring occasionally. Add Worcestershire sauce and serve.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

A FALSE ALARM

CHAPTER 119

We were at dinner. The telephone rang. Dick answered, and as I listened to his short staccato questions and replies my heart sank.

"What is it?" I asked as he hung up the receiver. His face was pale and his hands trembling.
"Juanita has had an accident. She has broken her leg and injured herself otherwise. Mary said the doctor was there. I must go right over."
"Why must you? Wouldn't it look better for me to go?"

"She may be suffering!" Mary said she—he hesitated, took his hat and dashed out of the house.
What had Mary said? Intuition told me that Juanita had asked her to telephone Dick. I had been wrong in my surmise—Dick loved Juanita. He had turned ghastly pale at the first intimation that something untoward had happened to her. He had gone to her, regardless of gossip gone without me.

I took my hat and followed him. I would save him from himself. I couldn't have been more than ten minutes behind him, but old Mary had her orders not to admit anyone else.

"The doctor said I mustn't let no one see her."
"But Mr. Williams is—"
"Yes, she carried on so I was afraid not to let him in."

"I will wait and walk home with him," I said seating myself, and then asked:

"How did it happen, Mary?"
"She was angry about something and didn't look where she stepped. When she is in a temper she always gets most blind. There was a man here fixing the steps. He left a loose board and she tumbled over it."

"Is her leg really broken?"
"She said it was grimly."

"Perhaps it is only badly wrenched. What did the doctor say?"

"Nothin' only what I told you. She gets what she wants always. Even makes the doctors say what she likes."

I knew that Mary did not believe her badly hurt, and that for some reason she was peeved with her mistress. I felt tempted to question her further, but disliked to, especially as I neither liked or trusted the woman.

Two hours later Dick came out of the invalid's room.
"You here Nan?"

"Of course! You didn't think I was going to remain at home and give Juanita's servants a chance to gossip did you?" Then: "How is she?"

"In considerable pain, but fortunately her leg is only badly wrenched, not broken. I can't understand how she did it," he finished scowling.
Then came the thought that she had done it purposely. I hated myself for allowing it to enter my mind, but it persisted.

For days Dick neglected his writing in order to sit beside Juanita, read to her or chat. And I went about my work heavy hearted, sure Dick really loved her, and thinking it only a matter of time—perhaps only days she would take him from me. Because Juanita said she was lonely, couldn't eat when alone—although she had eaten most of her meals alone for years—Dick often failed to come home to dinner. And as I sat lonely and alone I pictured them together, waited upon by Mary whom Juanita had bragged knew all about her, and from whom she never thought it necessary to hide anything.

"Your story will suffer I am afraid—Dick," once I volunteered.

"Perhaps—but one can't neglect—friends—for stories." His hesitation had been marked. But when a few days afterward Juanita hobbled out upon the porch he again took up his work, and with such a return of vigor that once more, woman-like, I hoped it would make him forget her a little, and think of me more often. For I did all in my power to make him comfortable so that he might work with a free mind.

But while he now kept closely to his study during the working hours his leisure was given to her.

People were gossiping.

It is a common saying that the one most interested is the last to hear gossip about themselves. But my work threw me with many sorts and I heard little things, received pitying looks. Mrs. Baker's warning recurred to me. "Don't let Juanita spoil your life as she has that of others," she had said.

Once again she spoke to me. "Why don't you persuade Mr. Williams to take you on a trip of some sort? It would do you both good. Go alone!" she had said impulsively. I knew what she meant, and the thought that others saw Dick slipping from me added to my misery.

Tomorrow—Gossip Is Rife.

You Must Replace the Wear and Tear on the Human System

Did you ever stop to consider what a tremendous task is placed upon your human system every day?

Your heart is constantly pumping life and vitality to every part of your body. This is being rapidly consumed after being turned into energy and strength that keeps your system performing its various functions. Every day there is a certain amount of wear and tear that must be replaced, if you are to enjoy good health.

Many people have found S. S. S. a great aid in keeping their system in good condition. Being such a fine blood tonic and system-builder S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the blood supply, and gives new vigor and vitality to the whole body.

S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. Write for free literature and full information to Chief Medical Adviser, 162 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The Daily Newspaper is an Instant Force

WISE national advertisers are not making long-time commitments these days. Conditions are changing too rapidly.

What may have been a bad market yesterday may be a good one tomorrow.

What might be a fair price today may be low or high a week hence.

Alert merchandisers are marshalling their selling forces so they can have the right men on the right spot at the right moment.

In times like these there is no force so adaptable to the problems of the manufacturer or national distributor as newspaper advertising.

The national newspaper advertiser can change his appeal overnight. He can move from one market to another instantly.

He can start here or stop there. He can make every advertising dollar count one hundred cents in efficiency.

In no other medium except the daily newspaper can he have like advantages.

The daily newspaper is the medium of complete adaptability, just as it is the medium of immediate results.
